BLAST Trial Update San Diego County Emergency Medical Services March 19, 2014

The BLAST trial closed to enrollment of new patients on July 1st 2012. The clinical trials center at the University of Washington determined that the number of enrollments for ground transport was reached so enrollment into that arm of the trial was closed.

There were 17 enrollments in San Diego. No errors or complications were reported. The number of patients enrolled was small due to limits on the number of participants.

Eight other ROC sites continued to enroll with air transport only and closed enrollment on November 15, 2013. San Diego did not include air transport as part of their enrollment process.

The trial is now closed to all enrollment and is in the process of data cleaning and analysis. Results will be available when presented or published.
